Title: Jon Sterckx - Drumscales Live Sampling

Copy:

Drumscales is a unique and exciting solo multi percussion performance. Drums from India, Africa and the Middle East sit alongside vocal percussion and cutting edge technology, bringing traditional world percussion into the 21st century.

Defying genre, Drumscales is a synthesis of traditional musicianship and contemporary live electronics. All instruments are traditional acoustic instruments which are played, sampled and processed live on stage using a laptop based multitrack recording studio. Drumscales range from highly energised rhythmical journeys to atmospheric percussion soundscapes. Expect a mixture of bouncy world rhythms and high energy drumming.

Quotes:

"Thanks so much for playing at our night for RESPECT - I thought you were amazing - a hypnotic, almost trance-inducing performance. You certainly had the audience hooked. Hope to have you play at another of our events sometime!" - Sound Gallery, Exeter. (from Exeter Respect Festival performance)

"Thanks for coming down Jon and performing, your performance was amazing!!!!" - Imran Iqbal - Cardiff Mela Organiser.

"Drumscales produces spectacular electro-tabla live sampling performances with all instruments played, sampled and processed on stage. Fusing Indian tabla with Middle Eastern & West African traditions its like nothing you've heard on the dancefloor before". - Band On The Wall, Manchester.

"A highly energised exciting performance, which hooked the audience from the first beat " - Kevin Johnson, Barbican Theatre, Plymouth.

"A stunning performance that excites the very deepest natural love of music. The strong beats and vibrant array of instruments and effects makes every piece a joy to listen to" - audience comment.
